FDR FORESEES EXTENDED WAR BEFORE WORLD

Cites Possibility of Its Continuance Through Year
Of 1943

QUOTES WORDS OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

People of U. S. Not Awake
Yet to Task Ahead of Them, He Says

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—President Roosevelt used words which Abraham Lincoln uttered at a dark moment in American history to emphasize to the nation today that he foresaw a long, hard road ahead
before a final victory over the Axis
was won.

The chief executive spoke of the war continuing through 1943 if necessary, and made plain his belief that the people of the United States
were not yet awake to the enormous proportions of the task confronting them.

Mr. Roosevelt chose to be indirect and had the capital wondering how literally to accept the parallel which he drew between 1941 and Lincoln's day.

Describes Lincoln Interview
The Lincoln quotation which the President cited at his press conference was in a passage from Carl Sandburg's monumental work,
"Abraham Lincoln—The War Years." It described an interview between Lincoln and a delegation of women, headed by a Mrs. Mary
A. Livermore of Chicago.

The time was September, 1862.
Only a few days before, the battle of Antietam had been fought—"the bloodiest single day of fighting of the war" in the opinion of Confederate General Longstreet. Behind
lay a series of almost unbroken Union reverses.

Mr. Roosevelt read Sandburg's
description of what Lincoln said
to the women who were seeking encouragement. It ran thus:

"I have no word of encouragement to give," was the slow, blunt, Lincoln reply. "The military situation is far from bright; and the country knows it as well as I do."

"The women were silent. They knew it was a heart-to-heart talk,
that he was telling them what he could not well tell the country."
"Haven't Buckled Down?"
"The President went on: 'The fact is the people have not yet made up their minds that we are at war with the South. They have not buckled down to the determi-

NO ONE INJURED IN FOUR-CAR CRASH

Four automobiles were involved in a collision at the intersection of Routes 62 and 224 in Canfield at 5 p. m. Monday but no one was injured, state highway patrolmen
reported.

Helen Harris, 23, of Youngstown,
one of the drivers, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving and fined $10 and costs by Mayor George Wilson at Canfield.

The other motorists in the accident are Fred Hall, 21, of Canfield, Jesse H. Boswell, 42, and Hubert H.
Couch, 23, of Youngstown.

Churchill Gets Kiss Upon Return

Prime Minister Churchill and Wife

When he reached London after returning from his momentous Atlantic ocean conference with President Roosevelt, the first person to greet Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain was his wife—with a kiss, above. Also on hand when the prime minister arrived was John G. Winant, United States envoy in London.

37th's Morale Fine Beightler Insists

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 20.—
Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commanding Ohio's 37th division in maneuvers here, declared today
that the Buckeye troops' "morale
has steadied" since passage of a law extending selective military service 18 months.

Beightler's assertion followed receipts of a telegram from editors of Life and Time magazines assuring him that their articles describing national guardsmen and selectees
as disgruntled should "cast no reflection" on Ohio troops.

The Buckeye commander became perturbed after publication of pictures showing the letters "OHIO"
which the magazine said meant
"Over the Hill in October" chalked
up in an army camp, and telegraphed the editors demanding that they clear his troops of any connection with the photographs.

He received this reply: "OHIO campaign should cast no reflection
on your division. Life's sample army division not yours."

(The phrase "over the hill" in army parlance means going absent
without leave.)
Beightler said his action in demanding statements from the editors was taken because he was afraid "the casual reader might get the impression that the division referred to is the 37th division."

He said an investigation showed that his troops knew nothing of the "OHIO" campaign, but that since then they had picked it up "in a humorous manner."

BAKING HONORS GO TO GREELEY GRANGE

Official cake tasters at a Colum-biana county Pomona grange meeting in Calcutta Grange hall recently acclaimed Mrs. E. C. King of Greeley grange winner of the county cake baking contest and Mrs.
Ivan McCombs of Alliance and member of Salem grange, second.

Twelve members of Mile Branch grange located near Sebring were present at the judging which covered entries from 17 different granges and was the culmination of local events that drew 247 contestants into competition.

Third prize went to Mrs. Clyde Farmer of Guilford grange. The morning meeting was given over to a business session presided
over by Clarence Crosser, master of Lisbon grange. A picnic dinner at noon was followed by the program
and final judging.

Historical comments were made on the song "America" which was sung by the entire group in opening the program. Two selections were offered by the county chorus
of which Six Mile Branch grangers are members. Those singing in the chorus were Mrs. Laura Watson, Mrs. Laverne Hahlen, Miss Valo-isesh Freshley, Mrs. D. M. Allison and Dale Allison. Mrs. Mildred Barnett
was the piano accompanist.

NAZI BOMBER OVER ICELAND

Flies Low Over Capital, But Holds Bombs; Pursued
By Fighters

(By Associated Press)
A German two-motored bomber,
risking possibly the first United States shot in the war, flew low today over Iceland's capital—where U. S. army and British troops are stationed—but dropped no bombs.
Fighter planes pursued it.

President Roosevelt has proclaimed Iceland the outermost point of American hemisphere defenses
in the Atlantic and strong United States forces have already been established there.

Meanwhile, a Russian attempt to ship supplies to the siege-bound
city of Tallinn, capital of German-occupied Estonia, was indicated in a Finnish communiqué which saw the sinking of five Soviet ships in the Gulf of Finland with food, automobiles, gasoline and war supplies.

Tallinn is cut off except from the sea, where the Russian Baltic fleet still claims command.

EAST HAS TEN-DAY GASOLINE SUPPLY

Long - Predicted Shortage
Here, Says Petroleum
Coordinator

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Reporting that the long-predicted oil
shortage in the east finally had arrived, Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum coordinator, said today stocks of gasoline in the east had dropped to a reserve supply sufficient only for approximately ten days.

Davies spoke of a "perilous situation," re-emphasizing the warning from the Office of Price Control and Civilian Supply that more drastic measures might be necessary beyond the limited gasoline
rationing now in effect.

Stocks of gasoline on the east coast dropped 893,000 barrels last week, as diversion of American tankers to Great Britain began to make itself really felt, the deputy coordinator reported.

ana.

The event was attended by 130
persons. Brief talks were given by State Representative John Steph-

Fierce Fight Raging About
Novgorod As Russians
Take Stand

(By Associated Press)
Masses of Russian tanks were reported by the Germans to be counter-attacking Nazi lines on the lower Dnieper river front late today, while elsewhere on the 1,200-mile battle line a Russian counteroffensive was said to have recaptured five Soviet villages.

The locale of the Red army's counter-offensive, reported by the official Soviet news agency Tass,
was not disclosed except that it was in a "western direction"—possibly on the central front guarding Moscow.

Tanks Attack Nazis
The Germans said Red tanks in large formations were attacking
Nazi troops storming up to the Dnieper river in an attempt to cover the retreat of sizeable Red forces eastward across the river.

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies
have tightened the ring on Leningrad with another 50-mile advance,
the Russians acknowledged today,
driving to the Novgorod region 100 miles south of the old Czarist capital.

While two other German and German-Finnish columns drove on Leningrad from the west and north, the Soviet high command's
communiqué said the fiercest battle raged about Novgorod, an ancient walled town above Lake Ilmen.

The Russians said the Novgorod province terrain was favorable for a determined stand, since it is half-covered with forests and dotted with about 1,200 lakes. The town itself, standing high on a hill
over the Volkhov river, is surrounded by swamps and lowlands.

A Red army bulletin also indicated that Germans were beginning to use air-borne troops, reporting
that a number of big 4-motored Junkers transports loaded with light tanks and men had been shot down.

'Chute Troops Hinted
Coincidentally, British military experts predicted that the Germans
would make an unprecedented use of air-borne forces in an attempt to smash their way across the formidable barrier of the Dnieper
river, in the southern Ukraine.

Authoritative London quarters said the Germans had avoided the mass use of parachutists, troop-carrying planes and gliders—such

COLUMBIANA FIRM PLANS BUILDING

COLUMBIANA, Aug. 20.—The Columbiana Boiler Co. has purchased a five-acre tract of land adjoining its present property to provide space for a new building. The structure will measure 60 by 210
feet.

The land, which borders the Pennsylvania railroad tracks immediately west of the village, was purchased from Tony Andrich.
A new plant is to be constructed
at once for the purpose of expanding facilities for defense work. The factory is busy on a number of government orders.

The man who works for Uncle Sam on an
R. F. D. route has to do a lot more

Any of the 1,500 delegates attending the 38th annual convention of the National Rural Letter Carriers association today will tell you they are called upon to perform tasks
that would make the postmaster
general gasp.

For instance:
Help cows give birth to calves;
Water and feed poultry and livestock;
Shop for patrons at the county
seat;
Barter for eggs and chickens;
Give advice on the raising of

CITY RESUMES STREET WORK

Repairs Will Be Made As Roller Leaves Broadway Project

Work is expected to be resumed
tomorrow on repairing the city streets, a number of which still show the effects of last winter's frost damage.

Councilman C. F. Zimmerman, chairman of the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee, told other members of council last night that the patching operations probably would get started Thursday.

The roller, which has been in use on the S. Broadway sewer project will be available after today Zimmerman said.

The sewer job has been completed
as far north on Broadway as Aetna
st. City Engineer F. S. Barchhoff reported. He announced that the WPA was scheduled to start operations on the next section of the project Nov. 1, providing the city was able to raise the sponsor's contribution.

The street will be opened to traffic within a few days, it was
said.

City officials had hoped for passage of the sewer levy as a means of raising the money. The levy,
however, was defeated at the polls
last week. The solons are now studying what steps they may take
to insure completion of the much-needed sewer.

'Service Director Charles T. Kennedy was criticized by Councilman Fred Koenreich last night for not having taken better care of the streets. "Already the city has received claims of damages from motorists who say their automobiles

LEGION OFFICERS NOMINATED HERE

The American Legion at its regular meeting last night at the hall
heard Milton Crichtfield give a report of the state convention at Youngstown. A committee for activities in the fall was appointed.

The following officers were nominated: Commander, William Stevens and Ernest Monks; first vice-commander, Milton Cricht-
field and Harry Goldberg; second vice-commander, William Newham and Roy Foust; treasurer, Howard Lotz; trustee for three years, Arthur Johnson.

WESTERVILLE MAN WILL HEAD LEGION

Floyd B. Hartpence Is New Commander; Auxiliary
Leaders Named

YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 20.—Floyd
B. Hartpence of Westerville, a science teacher, will take office
Oct. 1 as Ohio commander of the American Legion.

He was elected at closing sessions
of the group's 23rd annual convention to succeed Ralph H. Stone of Conneaut.

A native of Mt. Gilead, Hartpence
is an instructor at McKinley
Junior High school in Columbus.
Before Hartpence was officially elevated from vice commander, Adjutant Jake Salasky of Columbus
briefly occupied the Ohio unit's highest office. Immediately after installation, Salasky resigned with the title of past department commander.

Martin V. Coffey of Middletown was named vice commander; John E. Hendrixson of Cincinnati, treasurer, and Msgr. Frank Legowski of Toledo, chaplain.

The Ohio Legion auxiliary advanced Mrs. Fred Swing to its presidency, succeeding Mrs. Ernest C. Giffin of Zanesville. Mrs. Frederick Watts of Toledo was named vice president and Mrs. A. M.
Davidson of Chillicothe treasurer.
A plea for a strong American army and navy capable of aggressive warfare was made by National Commander Milo J. Warner of Toledo at the final meeting of delegates. His appeal followed the convention's stand favoring a permanent American defense program
which would obviate "hasty and expensive re-armament" in the future.

Both vehicles were traveling east
at the time. The truck driver said the accident occurred when Randall attempted to make a left turn.
The top-heavy load on the truck fell when Morehead swerved in an attempt to avoid a collision, police
said.

Wilbur Wiseman, 23, of Alliance,
was treated at 11:30 p. m. in city
hospital there for a broken nose, suffered when his motorcycle hit a guard rail near Salem, it was reported.

CITY WORKERS ASK INCREASE

Service, Waterworks Local Petitions Council For 12-Cent Boost

Council last night received an appeal from service and waterworks department employees for 12 cent an hour wage increases. The letter, presented by officers of Salem local
No. 318, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, suggested the following increases:

Service department—Common laborer 45 to 57 cents an hour;
laborers, from 50 to 62 cents an hour; machine operators, from 55
to 67 cents an hour; skilled laborers, from 60 to 72 cents an hour;
one foreman, from $135 to $160 a month.

Waterworks—Engineers, from 75
to 87 cents an hour; day firemen, from 60 to 72 cents an hour; two engineer helpers, from 50 to 62
cents an hour; city electrician,
from $135 to $160 a month.

It was pointed out that seven laborers and one foreman had been laid off in order that the payroll increases might be effected. The latter was placed on file.

Two ordinances were passed by council. One transferred $1,600 from the waterworks fund to waterworks
extensions fund for the purchase of a quantity of needed pipe, some of it to be used in installing a new line on E. Pershing st. between S.
Union and Washington avenues.

The other measure transferred $1,500 from the motor vehicle license fund to materials and laborers payroll funds for street improvements.

UNHURT AS TRUCK FALLS ON MACHINE

Kenneth Randall of R. D. 2, Alliance, escaped without a scratch
when his automobile and a large truck-trailer collided on Route 62
at the Columbiana-Stark county line, near Alliance, at 11:10 p. m.
Tuesday.

Ross J. Morehead of Mansfield, operator of the truck, suffered a sprained back.

Randall climbed out of his wrecked car uninjured despite the fact that the load on the truck toppled onto his machine after the collision. After upsetting the truck slid on its side for 50 feet.

Alliance police said the truck was bearing government equipment
from Mansfield to Pittsburgh.

Provisions Made for Salary Increases For City
Workers

A $272,488.64 budget for the year
1942 was approved by city council
Tuesday night.

The measure is lower than the $323,772 figure approved in the 1941
budget, although the general fund requirements have been estimated at $114,588.01, compared with $102-435.44 a year ago.

Principal reason for the lowered budget figure is the decrease in the amount of money needed for bond retirement, it is explained. The city's bond picture is considerable brighter than it was several years ago and only $49,416 has been set

Safety Director J. T. Rafferty told police today not to have the cruiser repaired if the clutch goes completely out of commission as it has threatened to do.

"I refuse to have any more money spent on repairs," he
said.

Councilman Charles Rheutan,
chairman of the safety committee, told other councilmen last night that repairs since Jan.
16 have cost $352.

"How's the motorcycle?" one councilman asked. "Is it ever used?"

The matter was referred back to the safety committee.

up for general bond retirement for the coming year. This compares with $80,456 for the current year.

Provisions have been made in the new budget for general wage increases for city employees, but the measure has yet to be approved by the county budget commission at Lisbon.

Police salaries for 1942 have been estimated at $12,276 compared with $11,188 this year. The firemen's wage total for the new year has been set at $22,618, against $20,496
this year.

The same applies to attaches of the board of health. Personal service needs for '42 are placed at $5-220 while the last estimate was $4-800.

Probable 1942 expenditures are shown as follows:

PARE INTEREST ON COLUMBIANA NOTES

COLUMBIANA, Aug. 20.—At a meeting at city hall last night
council passed a resolution to reduce the interest rates from 5 per cent to 2 per cent on three notes
which council holds from the cem-

An ordinance was passed for the cleaning of Main st. from Spring alley to Union st. The cost of the cleaning will be paid through the

The clerk, S. Richard Orr, was instructed to request the Youngstown and Southern Railway company to put in a catch basin at their Fairfield ave. crossing. This has been made necessary since the car tracks are now higher than the street.

Everett Wierick presided at the

ESCAPE HATCH

Sen. Vandenberg is the principal user so far of an argument that may shatter legislative opposition to a federal sales tax. Explaining that a 5 percent manufacturers' sales tax would raise $1,250,000,000 in new revenues, the perennial Republican dark horse from Michigan submits the following as his sales spiel:

"That in order to raise money the federal government is going to need to tax everything in sight. In the revenue bill passed by the house and now being debated by the senate, that is already being done. Therefore, as long as there is going to be a sales tax on this and that in effect, it would be more equitable and a lot simpler just to have a sales tax in fact."

The beauty of the senator's argument lies in the fact that it gives distraught legislators an escape hatch through which they can struggle out of the dilemma of appropriating money without raising it. By the time they get through swapping horses to protect their varied constituents, it probably won't surprise some of them to discover that as long as they are unanimously against taxing any special interest and unanimously in favor of spending more money, then the solution is a federal sales tax.

THE NOISY COUNTRYSIDE

There's no reason why country folk shouldn't be as aggressive as city folk. The success of their farm lobbyists shows what a little brass will do.

The country mouse way of doing business, for instance, probably is out of date. Farmer-salesmen going from door to door should take their cue from the brush salesmen. Roadside stands should be at least as snappy as the filling station at the crossroad.

There should be sales promotion. The customer should be flattered with bids for his favor. And who knows? It may be on the way. On one road last Sunday, a farmer's wife was brandishing an ear of sweet corn at the startled passengers of each approaching car and yelling, "Take home some corn!"

The day when farmers and their wives decide to make the customers sit up and take notice may be dawning. It's progress, but it's sad. When a fellow wants a little peace and quiet of a Sunday in a few more years, he may have to drive the old bus down to the business district and let the traffic lights wink him to sleep.

AN OFFENSIVE COMPARISON

With the worst taste conceivable, one news writer last week compared that momentous naval rendezvous with the get-togethers of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini. The comparison was not only offensive, but inept.

Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill are unique as top flight statesmen. They speak the same language, share the same background, support the same ethical standards, and possess similar educational experiences. This is almost without precedent among Men Who Matter.

It is virtually a rule that statesmen should know as little as possible about anything and anybody outside their own countries, or that knowing too much they should forget everything but the bare essentials. Most of them do not have the latter problem.

When the late Neville Chamberlain went to Germany to try to satisfy Teutonic blood lust without spilling blood, he was making his first visit to that country. He spoke no German. Hitler, who never has traveled outside Germany, except as a soldier and a conqueror, is familiar with only one language, and critics say he is none too familiar with that one. He is ignorant of the world at large, possessing a completely insular point of view.

No one can say what the ultimate pillars of strength in the English-speaking alliance may prove to be. Certainly, one of the likely possibilities is the fact the governments of the United States and Great Britain can communicate with each other through men who enjoy a friendship of culture, rather than an association of conquest.

NO WAR STILL THE OFFICIAL LINE

Those who sniff a plot to rush the United States into war pell-mell and those who repeat complacently that war is being held at arm's length share an illusion of unreality.

It is disquieting to find the highest spokesmen for the Roosevelt administration still cleaving to the latter line. Latest word from President Roosevelt is that the United States is no closer to war now than it was before he took his sea-going vacation.

What he means is that nothing has been done wilfully to bring the United States closer to war. But what the people are likely to think he means is that the United States actually is no closer to war than it was before. It is the same line that was being followed by administration spokesmen in the political campaign last year.

Everybody can see plainly that the United States nevertheless has moved constantly closer to war; in everything but actual shooting, it is in the war—and belligerency apparently awaits on nothing but a battle front. The trend of events bringing the country closer to war has been inexorable. It could not have been checked even by a government packed from top to bottom with isolationists.

It would be a lot better if the President, instead of building them up for the terrific letdown that will afflict fellow citizens who think the United States can enjoy victory and peace without war, were to switch the official line on steps short of war to something more realistic. The United States is moving closer to war each day. It will do the Roosevelt administration's intellectual honesty no credit to let the steady drift toward war proceed much farther without public acknowledgement of what is happening.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, August 21

A CONFLICTING astral condition may be read in this day's chart, with splendid promise and personal ratification succeeded by a sudden reversal or upheaval of radical importance. While important and ambitious projects may be advanced by clever methods and the assistance of powerful friends, yet these may also be defeated by erratic, emotional or explosive tactics or by unsound logic in plans or purpose.

These whose birthday it is may have a year of contradictory experiences in which there may be outstanding joys and good fortune as well as a sudden reversal or disappointment. There is sign of a disintegrating force which may prove devastating to cherished plans. Nevertheless, good judgment, sagacity and the support of influential persons may temper such dilemma. A tendency to erratic, temperamental or irrational behavior would but aggravate the situation.

A child born on this day may have a very excitable, erratic, explosive and indolent temperament, detrimental to its success. However, Lady Luck may be counted upon.

OUSTING THE ISMS

United Automobile Workers set a good example for all labor when they adopted a rule ousting and barring members of all un-American organizations from office in their organization. If they enforce the rule they will have set a precedent for other labor to follow.

Many unions have gained a bad name in the past because of the charge that their leaders were members of Fascist, Nazi or Communist groups. Sometimes the charge was well founded and sometime it was raised to discredit the organization.

There is something about the "radical" which makes the thoughtful believe that he is qualified for leadership. The man who militantly espouses an "ism" generally is a man who speaks and acts. The very nature of his fervor for the cause covers him with the outer garb of leadership. He is a man willing to work and to assume responsibility and the easy way is let him take over.

It is easier for the auto workers to pass a resolution than it is to make it effective and eternal vigilance on the part of the membership will be the price of ridding the organization of subversive elements and making it completely American.

Clendening Cites Mistakes Made In World War I

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Since all my fellow columnists in the political field are pointing out mistakes of the defense boards, I feel that I am perfectly justified in calling attention to a mistake made in the medical department of preparation. All the more so since this column publicly recommended last fall a method

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

which has been recognized as efficient and has stood the test of time in medical practice in large surveys of the population.

X-Ray Recommended
The recommendation was that each recruit, preferably at his home draft office, but at any rate as soon as he gets to the induction station, should have an X-ray plate of the chest to determine whether or not there is any tuberculosis present.

We pointed out the staggering cost of the acceptance for military duty in the last World War of men who had active tuberculosis at the time they were accepted which was undetected by the examining boards. Under the stress of war conditions, these men broke down and became active cases of tuberculosis. Since they had been accepted by the United States, hospitals had to be built for them and many of them are still being cared for at government expense. The exact amount of the cost of these mistakes was millions of dollars.

Ideal Method
Since that time, the method of taking a flat plate (not a fluoroscopic study) has proved to be capable of detecting 95 per cent of all cases of tuberculosis in those examined. This method is an ideal one to eliminate those unfit on the grounds of tuberculosis and to save the government from wholesale expenditure in caring for these patients later on.

This procedure, which had all common sense and experience behind it, was not followed out by the draft boards with any regularity. I have been told in most places that draftees were ordered to have an X-ray plate of the chest only when there were auspicious symptoms.

Cost of Later Care
The objection to the use of the X-ray plate as a routine seems to have been the cost. The cost of caring for tuberculous soldiers after the war compared with the cost of the X-ray machines, is beyond calculation.

The National Tuberculosis association has now recommended having X-ray examinations of lungs carried out by the local selective service boards on every applicant. Early this year these examinations began to be made. There are, of course, probably thousands of young men already inducted with active tuberculosis which will cost the tax payers millions of dollars in the future.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. M.: "Could a hardening enlargement and painful lumpiness of the breast be anything other than cancer? This condition started about two years ago, first one breast larger than the other, then the swelling seemed to disappear in the first one, then returned to a larger size, then both breasts enlarged."

Answer: Chronic mastitis causes lumpiness in the breast and is often mistakenly called cancer. You have described a case very well. The fact that it is in both breasts, and that at one time it got better, and that it has lasted for two years would argue against cancer; however, you should consult a competent surgeon who can make microscopic tests of the tissue involved and give a definite answer.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

Marie refused to stay alone with the bodies of Luigi and big Eric. "Eric was — brave — so brave!" she sobbed.

Tony put his arm around her. His eyes watched the Lascar villa for signs of the Japanese. No use telling Marie now the real story of "Major" Eric Thelme, alias Lord Hurlingham; the lad who was born an American and would wish to be buried near Portland, Maine. And so he should be.

"Listen, honey," Tony said gently. "If anything starts again, don't forget you're still Northern's last card. Run as you never ran before. Get back to the car and go for the police."

They walked up the villa path together. Then they heard someone crying, dreadfully. The door was open. They walked in; stopped short on the threshold.

It was Anna who cried. She hovered behind her beloved mistress. Baroness Lascar stood as if she never again would move from that spot. She still held the knife. She stared down, without expression, at the remains of Felix Northern. The light rug was more crimson than the carnation he wore. The emerald of his snake ring still shone in fading sunlight.

When Tony saw what was there, he thrust himself in front of Marie. She dashed past him and flung her arms around Theresa.

"You poor — poor soul!" Marie kissed a cheek that was hollowed and cold.

Theresa loosened Marie's arms, without emotion. Her voice had lost its resonance. "I used to love him. Yet, I . . . killed him."

Tony said quickly to Anna, "Miss Schuyler and I will do all we can for her. Phone the police. Where's that Jap? If he's anywhere around, the Baroness is in danger."

Marie stood by his side, her head drooping. Madame Lascar turned to them. "Thank you," she said tonelessly. "I don't want to be helped." She dropped the knife to the floor.

Tony led Marie out of the villa. The warm perfume of flowers filled the air. Far away they could see the Serena, trim and white on radiant waters.

Marie's eyes seemed larger and darker in her white face. She stumbled a little as they passed. Eric Thelme's covered corpse.

"We'll leave the yellow car here," Tony forced himself to sound matter-of-fact. He helped Marie into the white auto and took the wheel in silence.

Marie huddled next to him, lost in thought. . . . Tony guessed what she was thinking. He said quietly, "Don't be sorry, my lamb. Think of it this way: Northern was working against our country. Your money and you were to be sacrificed, to make war from within, turning our people against each other. If he hadn't made his headquarters on the Serena, we might never have caught him."

Marie's lip quivered. "I'd never have met you if all this hadn't happened." She put her hand on Tony's arm. "But I can't help it—I mean wishing I weren't somebody—or other with all this money that—does harm."

Tony patted her hand and said, "Listen, Marie, you'll be twenty-one in less than two months. It's up to you, now that you know what money means for good or evil." His pause was short. "I'm talking like a Dutch uncle. You needn't be self-conscious about having a penny or millions if you—well, sort of use it the decent way. There's a lot to be done back home, you know."

Marie gazed at the blue, white and gold Riviera setting. "I do know what you mean," she said slowly. "But—Tony, I can't do it all alone. I'll need an advisor—somebody I trust."

"The car almost got out of Tony's control. He pulled it back on the road. 'I'm a lawyer, of course,' he said. 'But I've had no practice—I couldn't—'

"You couldn't what, Anthony Worth?" For the first time in hours, there was a hint of laughter in Marie's voice. "My lawyer will get plenty of practice. He'll have to be with me most of the time."

Tony turned then from the wheel. "That wouldn't be such a hardship."

"Thanks, Tony. It's all fixed then," Marie murmured demurely.

"What's fixed?" Tony further slowed down the car.

"Why, you've just asked me to marry you," she said. "And I will. So it's all fixed."

"I did nothing of the kind," Tony objected. "Why, you're framing me!"

"I thought you said it wouldn't be a hardship to be with me most of the time," Marie glanced at the sky. "Of course, if you'd rather not—"

Tony stopped the car. "I want to marry you, and you know it," he snapped, "but I haven't a red cent!"

"Do I care?" Marie cracked back. "You talk about my responsibilities. What about yours? My money and your training make sense as a combination. Not that I haven't sense, too." She flashed a gamin smile.

"By the way, darling, who asked you to marry which one? I'm all mixed up."

"We'll discuss that later," Tony stopped the car before he took hold of her. Other cars speeding by saw two young people completely absorbed in each other.

When Tony started driving again, Marie's head was on his shoulder. "Sit up, client!" he growled at her. "As your lawyer and husband-to-be, I insist on dignity—in public."

They went first to the Prefecture and saw the chief of police, who was excessively relieved to see Miss Schuyler. He had set his entire superb system in motion, he explained, to find Mademoiselle. He hoped Mademoiselle would believe that his system was without flaws. For a long time the Baroness Lascar had been "suspect." His men were on their way out to her villa.

Meanwhile, with Captain Buckner's amiable assistance, the soundless who had dared mutiny were in jail. Cabies had been sent to America. And Monsieur le Capitaine, himself, was on shore.

"You're very kind, Monsieur," Marie said sweetly. "Please be good to the Baroness, Mr. Worth and I will do all we can for her. She is sick. You understand? Also, your men will find Major Thelme dead on the Villa grounds." Her voice trembled. "He was a brave man, Monsieur, and died to save . . . others. I—Mr. Worth and I—will attend to everything—his funeral, and—" She couldn't go on.

Monsieur le Chef de Police understood. He turned to Tony. "Monsieur Worth?" Tony bowed. A slightly worried look ruffled the Frenchman's poise. He lowered his voice.

"A friend of yours has been in-and-out, Monsieur, since four o'clock. He is a giant, a madman, with very red hair. He has been sending wires and shouting — a Monsieur Kee-laer. He has the credentials—"

"For the love of Pete!" Tony yelled. "You mean to tell me Ed's here! Where is he? Listen, darling—we've got to find Ed. He's my pal. Why, he's—he got me into this!"

They didn't have to hunt far. They drove along the promenade of the Croisette; got out of the car at the Casino. Then over two hundred pounds, topped with a carrot head, rushed from somewhere and bounced against Tony.

"You son-of-a-gun!" That was Ed, nudging, slapping, pumping at Tony's hand.

"You big bozo, where did you come from?" They grinned at each other.

Ed Keeler boomed. "The Chief sent me over as soon as we got your cable from Corfu. I'll say you've done a swell job!" Then he saw Marie and backed off. "Gosh!" he muttered, and flushed up through his hair.

Tony's lips twitched. "Marie, this is the intelligence wiz who's always in at the finish. Ed, my fiancée, Miss Schuyler."

"Gosh!" Ed muttered again. "Hello, Ed," Marie put out her hand. "Ouch!" she cried, and Ed was hers from then on.

"Where's the launch?" They sighted it and walked down to the pier. Captain Buckner stepped out, trim in his blue serge. There was a bandage around his neck.

"Glad you're back," he said dourly. "Everything's under control, Miss Schuyler. I've signed up a new crew. We found your maid, the chef and the stewardess in a hospital. They'd been drugged."

Marie hugged him. "I'm going to marry Mr. Worth, and we're all going home on the yacht."

"It's about time," Captain Buckner tried unsuccessfully to frown. But this news was a load off his mind. He liked young Worth.

"We've got the Jap," he announced, chuckling.

"Hoot?" Tony gave a whoop. "But how?" Then he saw Ed Keeler grinning again. The latter said modestly, "Well, soon as I arrived, not knowing what went on, I started out to board the tub—yacht—" he corrected himself, looking adoringly at Marie. "This tricky little guy was hanging around—we've tried to catch up with him for years. So I took him. I mean I didn't break any French laws. I got him on the tub—yacht—American ground. Understand?"

"Just like that!" Tony spoke in mock awe.

"Nothing to it!" Ed looked at Marie Schuyler again. What a gal! He said casually, "The Jap had enough dynamite packed on him to blow up your ship, Marie." Nice name—Marie.

A figure in a light flowered gown and a large floppy hat, came flying down to the launch. It was Eve Pryne, her china blue eyes widely open.

"Where have you been all afternoon?" She pounced on Marie, glancing at the new man—Ed Keeler—as someone she should know.

Tony said casually, "Oh, we've been in a few fights, attempted abductions, homicides, and so on."

Eve shrieked. "How perfectly awful! And there I was in Monte Carlo with the Fosters. But after that impossible lunch I simply had to go somewhere." She didn't look toward Tony. She felt guilty. After all, she had promised him she would stay with Marie.

But all Eve's worry vanished when Marie's hand tightened on Tony's arm, and she said, "You needn't worry, darling; the trouble's over now. And we're always going to be all right, aren't we, Tony?"

"We can't be anything else," was his emphatic response.

Showing at the State tonight and Thursday is the Judy Canova picture, "Puddin' Head," with Francis Lederer, Raymond Walburn, Slim Summerville and Eddie Foy, Jr.

Starting at the State Friday and running through Saturday is Frank Lloyd's "The Lady From Cheyenne" with Loretta Young, Robert Preston, Edward Arnold and Gladys George. A story of the yomping frontier of 1870, Miss Young plays a determined young school teacher from Philadelphia.

Playing at the Grand tonight only is a double feature: "They Meet Again," with Jean Hersholt as Dr. Christian, and "Men of Timberland," a rugged drama with Richard Arlen and Andy Devine. The Dr. Christian picture brings to the screen another of the down-to-earth, heart-warming stories of the folks at Liver's End—everyday people whose lives parallel those of thousands of American families in their everyday hopes and fears, joys and sorrows.

Battling against crooks intent on destroying rich lumber reserves for selfish gain, Richard Arlen and Andy Devine provide the action highlights of the second feature.

Plan Nominations In Washingtonville

WASHINGTONVILLE, Aug. 20.—A citizens' meeting for the purpose of nominating village officers for the November election will be held at the mayor's office at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. Emma Wisler entertained club members at her home on Friday evening with Mrs. Leon Vignon and Mrs. Walter Warner as guests. Cards were enjoyed, with prizes won by Mrs. Glen Jackson, Mrs. Leon Vignon, Mrs. Carl Martin and Mrs. Donald Spear. The hostess served lunch. In two weeks the club will be guests of Mrs. Merle Cutchall at Leetonia.

The 22nd annual reunion of the descendants of the late John and Harriett Chappell will be held on Sunday, Aug. 24, at Centennial park.

DRIVER LICENSES TO BE SOLD SEPT. 8

Changes In Law Will Be Effective; Deadline Is September 30

Automobile driver licenses will be put on sale in Ohio on Monday, Sept. 8. All drivers must have a new license not later than Sept. 30.

This announcement came today from Cylon W. Wallace, Columbus, registrar of motor vehicles in the Ohio department of highways.

Following a conference between Gov. John W. Bricker, Hal G. Sours, director, Ohio department of highways, and Registrar Wallace it was emphasized that changes in the driver licensing law effective row for the first time materially alter the procedure for getting licenses.

These changes include:

1—No person will be issued a 1942 driver license unless that person presents the 1941 license to the deputy registrar.

2—Minors from 16 years of age up will be required to take out a temporary driving permit, but only after application has been approved by the minor's parents. This permit entitles the holder to prove his or her ability to drive, and if an examination is passed a driving license may be issued.

3—Newcomers in Ohio, or persons who have permitted their driving license to lapse six months will be issued only temporary permits which will entitle them to take a driving examination.

4—Drivers who have lost their license must obtain a duplicate if they want a new license. Failing to do this they will be issued a temporary permit and then must submit to an examination.

5—Persons under 16 years of age who are capable of driving may obtain a very restricted permit, not for general traffic purposes, but for limited activities. Those permits must be obtained directly from the office of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Columbus, O. Deputy registrars cannot issue them.

Examinations of persons for driver licenses will be carried out by the Ohio Highway Patrol, traffic enforcement arm of the Department of Highways.

Registrar Wallace made it emphatic that no extension of time for obtaining driving license is to be expected.

"The law does not permit any extension of time," he said. "Drivers will have ample time to get their licenses if they do not wait until the last minute."

Famous Ballet Dancer At State Fair

CATHERINE LITTLEFIELD

America's No. 1 Ballet will be featured in the gigantic patriotic musical cavalcade, "By Dawn's Early Light", to be staged nightly during the Ohio State Fair in front of the grandstand.

The fair starts Saturday, August 23, and continues through Friday, August 29.

According to Win Kinnan, manager of the exposition, the new idea in presenting a stream-line performance in front of the grandstand nightly is attracting nationwide attention.

Featured will be the Catherine Littlefield Ballet, the foremost organization of its kind in America. Miss Littlefield is shown in the above picture.

In addition to the ballet cast, which includes 40 first flight dancers, will be more than 50 other stars of the stage, screen and radio. WLW Promotions, Inc., is staging the production.

A special revolving stage, 200 feet long, has been constructed in front of the grandstand on which the huge spectacle will be presented.

Get the GOLDEN TAN favored by fashion

Golden tans that everyone admires are the result of careful exposure to the sun's rays—avoidance of burns. Limit exposure the first few times you bask and use one of the Rexall Gypsy Tan products—oil, lotion or cream. For these tanning lotions shut out much of the burning rays of the sun, but allow tanning. They are delightful to use, too. Pleasant odor.

Salem China Beats Saxons As Bruderly Hurls Three-Hitter

3-1 VICTORY ADDS TO SERIES OF WINS FOR CHINA HURLER

Trinity and Christians Win In Close Church League Games

Kenny Bruderly, demonstrating again the hurling that has won the China a series of two, three, and four-hit games in recent weeks, last night hurled the potters to a three-hit 3-1 win over the Saxons in the only Class A game played at the Centennial park diamond.

Bruderly was aided by timely hits, one a triple by Laughlin, and another a double by McCoy. Mike Linder drove out two of the three safe Saxon blows.

Church League
Knepp squeezed the Trinity to a 4-3 win over the Baptists as he allowed the losers only four hits and drove out a circuit blow in the first church league game last night. The winning tally was scored in the first half of the last inning and ended a 3-3 deadlock that had existed since the fourth inning.

In another close Class B game, the Christians edged the Presbys 4-3 in a five inning duel. A home run by first-sacker Priddy, failed to offset four Presby errors.

Western Conference Concurs With East: Bigger, Better Football Despite Drafting

(This is another of a series dealing with likely effects of the national emergency on 1941 college football.)

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Business as usual, bums up prospects for the 1941 football season in the western conference, one of the nation's major athletic groups. The draft has made no serious inroads on player strength, and reports indicate the "Big Ten" is headed for a bumper year in so far as attendance is concerned.

John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the conference, says the circuit intends to intensify its

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Rumor market: what's this we hear about Steve O'Neill, the Tigers' coach, being offered the job of managing the Indians next year? Southern writers say Betsy Grant is going to retire from the tennis grind if he makes a first-ten ranking this season. Hank Greenberg, who last year exactly getting rich on a corporal's $52 per month, has traded in his expensive car for a cheaper one and $200 cash. All this talk about Hank asking for a discharge leads C. M. Gibbs of the Baltimore Sun to comment: "If he wants to sacrifice all that dough just to get back in baseball, that's his business."

Hard Lines
If you think Whit Wyatt had tough luck with that almost no-hitter the other day, listen to the sad tale from the south: J. H. Hubert had a no-hitter and a 10 lead with two out in the seventh and last inning of a sandlot game. Then a fellow named Alec Holmes came along and socked a homer. J. H. pitched four more near-perfect innings until Holmes batted up again in the twelfth and busted up the ball game.

Busy Man's Newspaper
The Dodgers are going to put on a fashion show before their game with the Cubs Friday, which is ladies day, and some of those premeditated Brooks played the models instead of the Cubs. Ball players say the reason Jim Tobin is winning for the Braves is that he's developed the best knuckleball in the National League. Illinois has grabbed off Ray Florek, Fenner High school who was rated the best prep school prospect around the Chicago district.

Today's Guest Star
Wirt Gammon, Chattanooga Times: "It is not true that the Cleveland club is called the Indians because they are the vanishing Americans."

Service Dept.
All baseballs hit into the stands at Swayne field, home of the Toledo Mud Hens, and returned by the fans will be sent to army camps by the club management. Zeke Bonura is doing so well as assistant athletic director at Camp Shelby that they're talking about naming a ball field after him.

FINEST PITCHERS IN MAJORS BELONG TO THE WHITE SOX

Chicago Club, Obscured by Other Teams, Has Won 17 of Last 20

The Associated Press Sports Writer

The finest pitching staff in the major leagues this year belongs to the Chicago White Sox.

This has been no secret, but the feat of Lefty Thornton Lee and big Johnny Humphries in pitching a double shutout yesterday against the Philadelphia Athletics served to switch the spotlight in the direction of the Sox.

Obscured by such developments as the fancy pennant fight in the National league, and the collapse of the Cleveland Indians, the White Sox nevertheless have won eight straight games and 17 of their past 20 in spurting from fifth place to second in the American league since August 2.

This was accomplished almost entirely on superb pitching. The Sox still are the weakest-hitting outfit and the next-to-the-worst fielding club in the circuit.

Lee, recognized as the outstanding left-hander of the year, achieved his 16th victory by holding the Athletics to six singles. He let only one man reach second in a 4 to 0 victory.

Humphries, a 26-year-old right-hander acquired from Cleveland last winter in exchange for Clint Brown, allowed only four hits. It was his second straight shutout.

John Babich opposed him with a five-hit job, but walked four batters, one intentionally, to force across the only run of the game in the third inning.

This lifted the Sox to 16 games behind the New York Yankees, who divided a doubleheader at Detroit and lost their star, Joe DiMaggio, for perhaps a week with a strained ankle.

The Tigers broke loose for eight runs in the second inning of the opener and won, 12-3, with Lefty Hal Newhouse pitching five-hit ball.

New York banged back with a 16-hit bombardment to take the night-cap 8-3. DiMaggio hurt his left ankle tagging second base after hitting a double in the fourth inning.

Lanky Ted Williams came up with three home runs during a doubleheader between the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns. But in spite of Williams' show, the best Boston could do was split the twin bill. The Browns took the opener, 3-2, as Dennis Galehouse held his former teammates to six hits. Boston won the nightcap 10-7, with a 19-hit offensive.

Washington whipped Cleveland's stumbling Indians again, 8-6. Brooklyn barged two full games in front of the National league by battering the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-0, and 6-2, in a doubleheader while the rest of the league was kept idle by rain in the east.

have been damaged," he said.
Council approved Koenreich's motion that the service director be instructed to remedy a slippery condition on N. Lincoln ave. near Hope cemetery, and to investigate an open catch basin hazard on S. Lincoln ave. below Summit st.

Will Probe Scrapper Use
A group of W. Euclid st. residents appeared before council to ask why their street was never scraped while the city's scrapper
was used on adjoining private property.

They told council that the scrap-
er had been on the abutting land,
where a home allotment is being constructed, for the past two weeks
and that the owner of the allotment
told them he was paying $40 a day for its use. Council promised to investigate and Councilman Zimmerman pledged a personal investigation.

The request of the W. Euclid st.
residents for installation of a sanitary sewer was referred to the sewer committee.
Council approved the construction of a manhole on W. Pershing st. extension when the annexation of that part of the street is completed.
Approval also was given to a request of Frank McConner to have a parking area built in the curb lawn
in front of his grocery on W. State st. Recent regulations providing for two lanes of traffic and no parking in front of his store have hurt
his business, he told council.

MACKENZIE KING REACHES BRITAIN

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie
King arrived in Britain by transatlantic plane today to confer with Prime Minister Churchill and other British war leaders and to inspect Canadian armed forces in the British Isles.

Making the ocean crossing with King aboard a giant four-motored Liberator bomber were Norman A.
Robertson, undersecretary of state
for external affairs; Brig. George P. Vanier and three secretaries.
The prime minister—making his first flight and his first visit to England since the start of the war
—planned to take an overnight
train to London, where headquarters for his party have been prepared in a hotel.

(The question of whether King
should visit London to discuss coordination of the empire's war effort has been the subject of debate
in Canadian political circles for months. The debate was given impetus by the fact that Canada was not represented at the recent meeting between Churchill and President Roosevelt—which some Canadian circles apparently regarded as a slight.)

(A statement on King's arrival in Britain, issued today in Ottawa,
said he helped plan that meeting.
His own trip to London the statement said, had been scheduled
some time ago, but was delayed until after the Churchill-Roosevelt conference.)

Quota Plans Conference

A business meeting of the Quota club was held last night at the Memorial building. The members discussed the district conference to be held in Akron Oct. 11 and 12, and elected as delegates to it, Martha Wire and Mona McArthur. Alternate delegates are: Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Blanche Kyle, Irene Slutz, Mrs. Wilbur Coy, and Mrs. Rinie Wark. The district governor, Mrs. Mary O. Harrison of Canton, will be here for a meeting in September. Plans are being made for an inter-city party scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 28.

In Mayor's Court

Robert H. Webb of Columbiana, charged by the state patrol with driving a car while intoxicated, changed his plea from innocent to guilty and was fined $100 and costs yesterday by Mayor Norman Phillips.

Paul Baer of Canton arrested by the patrol on a charge of speeding, was fined $10 and costs by the mayor last night.

John M. Weber of Salem charged by the patrol with reckless driving, was fined $10 and costs in the mayor's court today.

Hospital Notes

Patients admitted to the Salem City hospital yesterday include:
For tonsillotomy — Robert and Thomas Sidingler, brothers, of 1230 E. Tenth st.

For surgery — Mrs. Smedley J. Sizemore, 474 S. Ellsworth ave.; Daniel Womer, Jr., 394 Wilson st.; Paul Nightingale, Jr., of Wellsville. Patricia Bloor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Talbot, is recovering from an appendectomy at Central clinic.

Explosives Division Setup

An explanation of the operations of the state division of aid for the aged was given by William M. Vance of Columbus, chief deputy in the department, when he spoke to Rotary club members at noon Tuesday in the Memorial building. Alden Gross served as program chairman.

Building Permits

John Louis has obtained a building permit from the city for an $8,500 seven-room frame residence on N. Union ave.

Another permit has been issued to Levi A. Fox of 1575 N. Ellsworth ave. for the erection of a $700 three-car garage.

Recent Births

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Knight of Damascus are the parents of a daughter born yesterday afternoon at the City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dermotta, 781 W. Pershing st., are the parents of a daughter born this morning at the Central clinic.

Rev. Keister Kiwanis Speaker

Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church, will address Salem Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting at noon Thursday in the Memorial building. Dr. C. J. Lehwald will be chairman.

In Engineer Battalion

William H. Westfall of 272 W. Seventh st., who was recently inducted into the army, is now a member of Co. D, 6th engineer training battalion at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Hub Caps Stolen

Paul Swenington of 452 Sharp ave. told police yesterday that two hub caps had been stolen from his automobile while parked at his home.

ESCAPE DEATH IN AIRPLANE'S CRASH

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 20.—Because they were asleep and relaxed in rear seats, two North Americans and a steward escaped death in a Panair do Brasil plane crash that killed eight and seriously injured two others, investigators said today.

Prof. Philip C. Jessup of New York, international law expert, touring South America to promote study in that field; Hugh Davies, Harrisburg, Pa., businessman, and David Novak, the steward, made their way down the mountainside, where the plane crashed, to a suburb of Sao Paulo yesterday. Jessup and Davies were the only North Americans aboard the plane.

The three, suffering minor injuries and shock, slept overnight at a hospital after telling of their futile attempts to extricate other passengers from the wreck.
Rescue squads worked through the night to remove the bodies of the dead in the plane and to care for the injured, identified as Julio Carlos Wittis and Savio Cruz Secco. Secco was found unconscious, his arms around his dead wife.

A patrol spokesman said an early examination of the wrecked plane showed no sign of sabotage.

MAJOR'S NOT MAJOR. IT'S ONLY HIS NAME

CAMP DAVIS, N. C., Aug. 20.—It's all very confusing — this fellow Major's name — but soldiers at this cantonment don't know what can be done about it.

Ask for Sgt. Major and you'll probably get a sergeant-major who is not Sergeant Major.

You get all straightened out with the captain and ask for Major and a major comes along and asks: "Was someone calling me?"

After about two hours and 17 minutes you find Sergeant Cap Major and you've forgotten why you were looking for him.

Happy Again After Reconciliation

All's well again in the ménage of Joseph Louis Barrow, better known as Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis. At a hearing before the court of chancery in Chicago on his wife's suit for divorce and petition for alimony, a reconciliation was effected, and the champion and the former Marva Trotter left court in this romantic manner, above.

as they exploited in the battle of Crete—to await just such an emergency as the Dnieper crossing.

German military dispatches said the left wing of General von Rundstedt's army, estimated at 1,500,000 men, was advancing against stiff resistance toward the great bend of the Dnieper river, site of the big industrial city of Dnipropetrovsk. Advances reaching London indicated that Marshal Semyon Budennyh had succeeded in withdrawing a great many of his troops across the river, but that his forces were believed to be weak in guns and depending too much on old-fashioned horse cavalry.

EXPORTS CONTROL WILL BE EXPANDED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Government control of exports, now covering 80 per cent of all commodities, soon may be expanded to blanket all shipments abroad, authoritative quarters disclosed today.

Further, these sources said, a complete embargo is likely for certain materials.

President Roosevelt lengthened the license list yesterday by adding six new categories—furs, synthetic fibers, wood, natural asphalt or bitumen, non-ferrous metals and precious metals. The new restrictions will become effective Sept. 10.

Metals and manufactures, aircraft, arms and munitions, chemical products and various raw materials—all under license control—formed the major part of the $2,083,000,000 worth of goods shipped out of the United States in the first half of 1941.

Officials explained that export control was required to assure adequate supplies of raw materials and manufactured articles in this country for national defense and everyday life, and to enable the United States to fulfill commitments to Great Britain, China, Soviet Russia, and the Latin American republics.

BOOST IN COUNTY MILLAGE STUDIED

LISBON, Aug. 20.—Columbiana county commissioners and other officials went to Columbus today to seek the advice of the Ohio department of taxation on increasing the county's millage to insure sufficient operating revenue for next year.

Joining the commissioners in the trip were County Auditor Ross Tisher, his assistant, James Cavanaugh, County Treasurer Olen H. Dawson and Prosecutor Frank Springer.

If the tax commission approves, the commissioners may seek the approval of a one mill levy, for operations, at the November general election, it was indicated today.

Army Fatalities Grow

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 20.—The accidental death toll during maneuvers of the Third army in this area reached seven today. Corp. Gordon M. Ayton, 20, of Indianapolis, a member of the 38th signal company, 38th division, was the latest victim. He was electrocuted yesterday when a temporary telephone line he and his brother, Paul, were removing, fell across a power cable at the base camp, 35 miles north of here.

Senator Is Divorced

COLUMBUS, Aug. 20.—State Sen. Grant P. Ward was awarded an uncontested divorce decree from Mrs. Helen M. Ward yesterday by Judge Dana F. Reynolds. The Wards were married May 31, 1917, at Wellston, O.

DEATHS

BAHL FUNERAL

Funeral service for John Irwin Bahl, 53, general manager of the Bahl Pottery, Inc., at Carrollton, who died Sunday, was held this afternoon at the Spiker parlors in Canton. Burial was made in Canton.

Mr. Bahl, long identified with the pottery industry, had resided in Canton for 28 years, going there from Salem. He was a native of Salineville.
Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edna Bahl; two sons, Jack of Canton and Pvt. Bruce Bahl, stationed at Fort Devens, Mass., and a sister, Mrs. George Smith of East Liverpool.

WAR ALLOCATIONS SHADE 44 MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Allocations for the defense program topped the $44,000,000 mark today and legislators expected a forthcoming request for more lend-lease funds to send the overall total to about $50,000,000.

House appropriations committee statistics showed that congress already had forfeited $37,260,262,222 since July 1, 1940, for the army, navy and related programs, in addition to the original $7,000,000,000 lease-lend outlay for aid to Britain.

Included in the total was a supplemental defense bill carrying $6,586,896,948, mostly for the army, which congress approved last week. Here is a general breakdown of how the huge sums will be spent—in many cases over a period of years:

War department—$24,805,321,523 for an army of 1,500,000, a force of 36,000 planes, tanks, ammunition, new quarters and supplies.

Navy department—$3,421,487,646, for more ships for the two-ocean navy, 10,000 planes, bases encircling the United States, new shore stations, equipment and ammunition.

Other agencies—$3,033,451,053 for all other defense activities such as the maritime commission's program of building and acquiring hundreds of new additional cargo ships.

Steel Train Derailed

EAST LIVERPOOL, Aug. 20.—W. J. Smithmeyer, Pennsylvania railroad detective, said a broken wheel caused derailment of six cars of iron destined for the Midland mill of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel Co. plant near here last night. Traffic was tied up six hours.

Auto Injuries Fatal

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20.—Injuries received in an auto accident proved fatal to Mrs. Anna Kolomichuk, 53, here yesterday.
